

Spring 2007 Newsletter

From the Director:

Dear Playhouse Parents,

As we near the end of our fifth year in Hopkinton, I am amazed by all the growth and learning that happens each day. The toddlers have been expanding their vocabularies, following and predicting their morning schedule, and using the potty while wearing pull-ups. The three and four year olds have been dressing up and re-creating scenes from their home lives as well as practicing how to pause and communicate their strong feelings using words. Our five year olds have been spelling their names, rhyming words and phrases, and writing and illustrating books with Ms. Margaret in the afternoon.

It has been such a pleasure watching and guiding your children each day at school. They have made such incredible gains and being a part of their lives has been a blessing to all of us at The Playhouse.

Sincerely,
Ida and the teachers

Summer Program

Registration forms were sent home but if you didn't receive one, there's a pile as you enter school. Please return by April 30th. If you're interested in extending your child's day until 2:00, let Ida know or write it on your registration form.

Fall Pre-K Program

The Pre-K program with Margaret will be offered Monday, Wednesday, and Friday 12-3. Children bring their lunch and have the option of arriving at 9 or 12 o'clock and staying until 3. Younger preschoolers can join this group and participate in the activities up to their developmental levels.

Music, Movement, & More

Pam is offering a six week music class starting Tuesday, May 1st. Playhouse children can stay for lunch and take the class at 1:15. There is no Playhouse charge during the music class. Registration forms are available as you enter school or just show up.

April Progress Reports

Teachers are available for conferences on Mondays from 9-1. Please sign up as you enter school.

School Pictures

Thanks to Kasey for making picture day such a breeze. If you didn't pre-pay, you can take home some proofs and purchase the package of your choice. Don't forget to sign up for sibling/family photos on April 28th. Thank you, Kasey, for sharing the proceeds with us.
